SUSPENDED ANIMATION.

Young Woman Declared Dead
May Be Alive.

SHE REPOSES IN CASKET.

There is Nothing About Countenance to Indicate Life Being Extinct, the Skin Being Soft and Pliable and the Complexion Beautiful.

Rome, Feb. 27.—The people of San Remo are anxiously watching around the casket of a young woman, who, although she has been pronounced dead, they believe to be suffering simply from the effects of suspended animation. The body is that of a young Russian, a victim of consumption, and it lies in a casket in one of the vaults of a church at San Remo. Ten days after the woman was said to die relatives from Russia arrived at San Remo and when the lid of the casket was lifted there was nothing about the face or body to indicate death. The skin was soft and pliable and there was a glow of pink in the cheeks. The lips also held their original color and the wide-open eyes, although in a fixed stare, had not the glassy effect of those of a dead person.

ADVERSE TO KATY.

Decision on Parts of Gross Receipts Law Favorable to State.

Austin, Feb. 27.—The supreme court decided in favor of the state in the case of the state of Texas against the Missouri; Kansas and Texas Railway Company of Texas, from Travis county, which was reversed and rendered, and involves certain parts of the gross receipts tax law. Railroad company contended that if the Texas and Pacific railway was exempt from the tax because it operated under a Federal charter the Katy was also exempt. The supreme court held that because the Texas and Pacific is exempt because the state has no jurisdiction over it, it does not follow other roads are exempt. Judgment is rendered in favor of the state for $36,119.

The house ordered engrossed the bill requiring judges to deliver written charges to juries before argument is made by attorneys.

A memorial from bankers of Houston, Galveston and San Antonio was received in the senate requesting the legislature not to pass any bill which would prohibit legitimate cotton exchanges in the state.

LONGFELLOW'S MEMORY.

Centennial of American Poet's Birth
Commemorated in New England.

Boston, Feb. 27.—Then universal regard in which the memory of Henry Wadsworth Longfellow is held was given expression throughout New England Wednesday by exercises commemorating the one hundredth anniversary of the poet's birth. In Maine, where the poet was born, and in Massachusetts, where he spent so many important years of his literary life, the principal public observations were held, but there was scarcely a public school or literary society in this city which did not devote some time to the memory of the man whose writings touched the common heart so deeply.

DUE TO FUMES.

Two Firefighters Lose Their Lives and Eleven Others Affected.

New York, Feb. 27.—Two firemen were killed and eleven others rendered unconscious by ammonia fumes at a fire in the basement of a building in Eighth avenue. The condition of two others is serious. The dead are: Adam Damm, Harry F. Baker. But for heroic work of rescuing parties the death list would have been larger.

THOMPSON PASSES AWAY.

Former Well Known Variety Theater
Man and Longtime Dallasite.

Dallas, Feb. 27.—J. W. Thompson, who many years ago conducted a variety theater in this city bearing his name, is dead at his residence in this city, aged sixty-eight years. He was the owner of much valuable real estate and a citizen of Dallas over thirty years. He retired some years ago.

BROKE HIS NECK.

Brickmason Falls From Scaffold at Houston and Meets Death.

Houston, Feb. 27.—John Holmes, a brickmason, aged about sixty years, missed his footing on a scaffold of the new Central Christian church and plunged forty feet to the ground below, breaking his neck and dying instantly.

New Baseball League.

Terrell, Tex., Feb. 27.—At a meeting here preliminary organization of a baseball league composed of Corsicana, Paris, Greenville and Terrell was effected. Organization will be perfected at Greenville March 6.

Oliver Urged.

Chattanooga, Feb. 27.—Telegrams have gone from the principal points in the south urging President Roosevelt to name W. J. Oliver as a member of the Panama canal commission and put him in charge of the work at Panama.

SEVENTEEN SUFFOCATED

Principal and Sixteen Pupils Are Victims of Smoke.

HEROIC MISS MAXWELL.

While Endeavoring to Save the Little Ones Committed to Her Care a Lady Teacher Rushes Into School Room and Yields Up Her Life.

Montreal, Feb. 27.—Principal Maxwell and sixteen children perished in a fire in the Hocholaga school of the Protestant school commission. The school was located in a two story brick building in the east end of the city and was attended by about 200 children, whose parents are mechanics living in the neighborhood. The fire started from the furnace and was first noticed by workmen employed nearby. The teachers were notified and the work of getting the children out of the building began. The kindergarten department was located on the second floor and it was here that the loss of life occurred. The children were started out, but on reaching the landing, they found the lower hall full of smoke. Into this they refused to descend, though the way at this time was quite safe. Huddled together on the stairway at first, they retreated to the rooms from which they had come. When the firemen arrived an extension ladder was placed in position and a large number of children were rescued in this manner.

Assisting in the work was Miss Maxwell. The fire by this time was making its way upward and the smoke was growing so dense that even the experienced firemen could not stand it. Captain Carson endeavored to get Miss Maxwell to go down the ladder, but she refused, and evading the attempt to detain her, rushed back into the rear part of the building in search of other children. When the firemen were finally able to make their way to the back portion of the building she was found lying on the floor with a little child beside her. All those who perished died from asphyxiation.

FIGHT IN HOUSE.

Congressman-Elect and Representative
Have Personal Encounter.

Raleigh, N. C., Feb. 27.—The floor of the house was the scene of an encounter between Congressman-elect R. N. Hackett of the Eighth district and Representative C. G. Bryant of Wilkes county. Hackett used his right hand effectively on Mr. Bryant's ear and jaw and Mr. Bryant drew a long-bladed pocketknife and made for Hackett, but was intercepted and disarmed. He then attempted to strike Hackett with an inkstand and subsequently with a chair, but the blows fell short. When quiet was restored Bryant apologized for his offensive words that brought on the clash.

The fight took place while a legislative committee was in session, a matter concerning Wilkes county being under consideration. Hackett had addressed the committee and when he closed, Mr. Bryant, a member of the committee, referring to Hackett's remarks, said that he resented the aspersion put upon the commissioners of his county. Hackett replied that he had not aspersed the commissioners. Bryant repeated the remark and then Hackett struck him. The committee was in a tumult of excitement for five minutes. Hackett is a Democrat and Bryant a Republican. Both live in Wilkes county.

MURDERED AND ROBBED.

Man's Head Nearly Cut Off and Woman Shot to Death.

Colfax, La., Feb. 27.—With $15,000 missing from the house, Joseph Billeff, a wealthy Frenchman, and his wife were both found dead. Billeff's body, with the head almost cut off, was found in the house, while his wife's body lay on the front lawn with several bullet wounds visible. It is believed that robbers killed both.

Williams Exonerated.

Guthrie, Feb. 27.—The committee appointed by the constitutional convention to investigate charges of corruption in connection with the location of the county seat of Harper county, reported that it had failed to substantiate the charges. Delegate E. R. Williams was completely exonerated.

Never Knew White.

New Orleans, Feb. 27.—Edna Goodrich, the actress, who is here with Nat Goodwin's company, said in reply to the testimony of Evelyn Nesbit Thaw connecting her name with White: "I never knew Stanford White. I was never in his studio and I never introduced Evelyn Nesbit to White."

Shipment Held Up.

New Orleans, Feb. 27.—The shipment of considerable quantities of arms from here to Nicaragua is delayed by an order received by Collector of Customs McCall from the United States revenue department. This order makes the delay temporary pending an investigation. The arms are said to be shipped by private concerns.

Five Stores Consumed.

Mexia, Feb. 27.—At Teague, fourteen miles south of here, five stores were burned. Loss is $10,000.

THE MORNING EAGLE

Entered at the Postoffice in Bryan, Texas as second-class matter.

BY CARNES & WALLACE

The Eagle is authorized to announce
H. E. PEPPERLEY

as a candidate for the office of City Secretary at the ensuing City election in April.

BRYAN, TEXAS, FEB. 28, 1907.

The Penrose courtmartial continues to furnish fresh evidence of the guilt of the negro troops at Brownsville.

Mayor Chas. Davis of El Paso caned a turbulent negro soldier on a street car, according to press dispatches. The Mayor's mettle is of the kind there is no mistaking.

The attorney general holds that the anti-nepotism law will not take effect until ninety days after the legislature adjourns. Appointments made previously are not affected by the operation of the law.

Beaumont will apply to the legislature for a change in its charter calling for a commission form of municipal government. The commission governed cities are making records that popularize the commission idea, and it is enjoying a wholesome growth.

The Panama canal has become famous for the resignations it has caused. Chief Engineer Stevens has followed the example of and Shonts and Wallace in resigning, and it is now given out from Washington that the canal will be constructed under the direction of three government engineers.

The cry of "back to the farm" which is heard on all sides these days sounds good enough to us and is bound to have a salutary effect. Farm life is the most independent life in existence and the wholesome sentiments which spring from the freedom of life out of doors are the strongest safeguards of a democratic government.—Beeville Picayune.

TO SECURE SITE AND CHARTER

For Farmers' Cotton Oil and Fertilizer Company—All the Capital Stock Has Been Taken.

Members of the board of directors of the Farmers' Cotton Oil and Fertilizer Company, recently organized, held a meeting yesterday afternoon and appointed a committee of four, composed of E. J. Fountain, W. C. Boyett, W. S. Wilson Jr. and J. Webb Howell, to proceed at once to secure a charter for the company and a site for the plant. It is the purpose of the company to begin work on the plant as soon as these details can be arranged, and to push the construction and equipment as rapidly as possible. The Eagle learns that all of the authorized capital stock of $50,000.00 has been taken.

WATER, LIGHTS AND RAIN.

Bryan got a good wetting inside as well as outside yesterday. A glorious Godsend of rain blessed the early morning hours and showers continued at intervals all day, furnishing plenty of exterior dampness. On the other hand the water works, with a replenished supply from the successful operation of the pumps of both wells, filled all the mains and pipes and re-established normal conditions at an early hour in the day after a seemingly interminable period of water scarcity.

The rain was probably quite general throughout this section, and makes the conditions favorable for planting corn, which has been delayed, on account of dry weather, for ten days or two weeks. Rain fell over a portion of the county on Sunday.

The rain yesterday morning was accompanied by an unusually heavy electric storm for this season of the year. There were reports that one or two citizens were slightly shocked on account of proximity of lightning, but so far as the Eagle learned, no one was hurt.

To add to the causes for gratification, the electric light service, which had been discontinued for about two weeks on account of the water scarcity, was resumed last night.

PRACTICAL HUMANE WORK.

The Eagle is pleased to note multiplying evidences of the growth of humane sentiment throughout the state. Thoughtless and cruel treatment of dumb brutes, which formerly attracted little attention, now brings censure on those guilty of it. The wanton beating, overworking and underfeeding of horses and tying them up to racks for hours without food or water is cruel in the extreme and wholly inexcusable. This humane sentiment is not only theoretical, but is taking a practical turn in the determination of officers to enforce the law against such practices. County Attorney Lamar Bethea has given notice to drivers of some of the public delivery wagons in this city that further persistence in the use of horses manifestly overworked and underfed will be met with prosecution. A little of this remedy will go a long way towards correcting these evils and the Eagle desires to commend the action.

REPLY TO COCKE.

Reasons Given For Closing the Evidence Over His Protest.

Austin, Feb. 27.—Wolfe and O'Neal of the house investigating committee made a reply to the protest of Mr. Cocke relative to closing the evidence, in part as follows: "To comply with the desire of Mr. Cocke as expressed in his protest would keep this committee in session for an indefinite length of time—certainly longer than the present session of the legislature will last.

"If his protest was heeded and the committee should do everything that he seems to desire at the end of that time we are thoroughly convinced that he would have another protest, which would appeal to the sense of this committee just as strongly as the present one does.

"For more than a month the services of each member of this committee have been subject to the command of Mr. Cocke for the issuance of process to bring witnesses from all parts of this state at public expense to testify before the committee. He has freely used this privilege and has brought to the capital many witnesses, some of whom have testified, while many of them have been excused because even Mr. Cocke was convinced that no fact could be established by them tending to sustain any charge he had preferred.

"We are convinced that Mr. Cocke knows of no witness in the state of Texas by whom he could prove any fact against Senator Bailey, and our reasons for so believing are that he would have called for a subpoena for such witnesses if he had known of their existence; instead of asking that a subcommittee be sent to Gainesville, Bonham and other places he would have applied for a process for the witnesses to have been brought to Austin; he has had summoned and brought before this committee a number of witnesses from Gainesville, Bonham, Houston and other points in the state, whose testimony failed to sustain any charge he has preferred, and we are certain that he caused to be subpoenaed and brought here the very best that he had any knowledge of.

"We are opposed to sending a subcommittee over the state of Texas, or any place else, to hunt up testimony which Mr. Cocke did not know of at the time he preferred his charges and does not know of now, but merely suspects might be found by such a committee, and which does not in fact exist.

"Our committee has no authority under the resolution calling it into existence to send a subcommittee to any point within the state of Texas and would have no authority to pay the expenses of such committee out of the contingent fund of the house.

"Mr. Cocke's proposition to send a committee to Ardmore to take the evidence of Mr. Lacy was considered useless because Mr. Lacy wrote and wired the committee he did not know a fact or circumstance pending to prove the charge and offered his affidavit to that effect, or to come in person to Austin if the committee deemed it necessary. We believe the committee was thoroughly convinced that Mr. Lacy did not know a fact, and that it would be putting him to unnecessary trouble and the state to unnecessary expense to call him to Austin. Mr. Cocke does not profess to know of anything which could be established by Mrs. Phillips, but assumes to believe that there might have been some improper relations between her deceased husband and Mr. Bailey, and then assumes that perchance Mrs. Phillips might know something about this.

"This committee was appointed by virtue of a simple resolution of the house of representatives, and therefore never concurred in by the senate nor approved by the governor. It is our deliberate opinion that this committee would have no authority whatever outside of the state of Texas to compel the attendance and testimony of witnesses, nor the production of books and papers. Its attitude would have been a farcical one, either in St. Louis, New York or any other place outside of Texas.

"But assuming that it had authority any lawyer must admit that before a disinterested third party could have been compelled to produce his private books and papers some showing would have to be made as to what the book was, what the paper was, describing them in some manner, as well as stating what evidence could be secured therefrom and its materiality. Mr. Cocke does not profess, and we know as a matter of fact that he has no such information and could not have put the committee in possession thereof. What he wanted was that the committee should go to St. Louis and other places and demand an inspection of books and papers of disinterested third parties for the purpose of seeking whether or not some evidence that he knew not of might be found.

"We had before us every book of the Waters-Pierce company which could possibly throw any light upon any matter charged against Senator Bailey in this transaction. We had the books of original entry, beginning at a date long prior to April 25, 1900, and extending to dates long subsequent to any matter under investigation. The $1,500 item, the $3,300 item, the $3,100 item, the $200 item, the $1,750 item and the $8,000 item mentioned in the charges filed by Mr. Cocke were each and all traced from the first entry in the books of the Waters-Pierce Oil company.

The reply concludes by saying that Mr. Cocke filed some forty-odd charges, most of such character that, if true, would have constituted felonies. "It appears that he made these charges without personal knowledge of a single fact on which to base them. They were founded on rumor, and after having been given the freest opportunity for four weeks to establish his charges and having signally failed to prove a single one of them, I, for one, did not feel as a member of this committee or as a representative of the people of Texas, that I should gratify his desire for further notoriety."

The document is signed by J. A. L. Wolfe.

"I DID NOT."

Nearly All of Mrs. Thaw's Answers Comprised In Three Words.

New York, Feb. 27.—Five minutes before court opened Wednesday Evelyn Nesbit Thaw entered the courtroom, accompanied by Mr. Delmas, and took a seat at the end of the table occupied by defendant's counsel, next to the chair occupied by her husband. Immediately after court convened Mr. O'Reilly, of counsel for Thaw, led Mrs. Thaw and Mrs. Caine from the room. Mrs. Thaw did not get a chance to speak to her husband. Mr. Jerome then stated that he had overlooked something in his cross-examination of Mrs. Thaw and asked that she be recalled for a few questions, stating that it was not merely a matter of affecting the credibility of the witness, but a matter which he might wish to attempt to controvert on rebuttal, and he wished to lay the foundation for such action by calling her attention to the matter. Mrs. Thaw was, therefore, recalled. By his first question Mr. Jerome indicated that he intends to call Howard Nesbit to the stand to contradict his sister. The prosecution is allowed to contradict reversible or material facts, but cannot controvert collateral facts.

DELPHIN M. DELMAS.

"Did you see your brother at Marion, Mass., after your return from Europe in 1905?" asked the district attorney.

"I did not," replied Mrs. Thaw. "Where did you see him?" "In New York." "Did you not tell him in substance that while you were abroad you had been brutally abused by Thaw, who had tried to induce you to tell lies against Mr. White to the effect that Mr. White had drugged and seduced you, which statements you then and there told your brother were false?"

"I did not." "Didn't you tell your brother that Thaw, at a pistol's point, had compelled you to make statements against White?"

"I did not." "And that the statements were lies?" "I did not."

"Did he not ask you if you feared violence and you said you did, and he said you should arm yourself for protection?"

"I remember no such conversation?" "Did he not say you should have a revolver?"

"He did not." "Didn't he buy you a revolver?" "He did not."

"Didn't you give him money to buy a revolver?" "I did not."

"That is all," said Mr. Jerome. Mrs. Thaw stepped down and left the room.

In beginning his cross-examination of Dr. Bingaman, the Thaw family physician, Mr. Jerome said again: "If I find this man crazy I'll say so." Mr. Delmas said defense would conclude its case this week. Mr. Delmas objected to Dr. Bingaman being cross examined as an expert and was sustained.

PADDING CHARGED.

Senator Culberson's States in Opposition to Aldrich Bill.

Washington, Feb. 27.—When Senator Aldrich called up his currency bill in the senate Senator Nelson took the floor and offered a modification of his amendment. He said: "It simply legalizes what the secretary is now doing. My understanding is that he has for the first time gone outside the law and accepted other securities for government deposits and government bonds."

Mr. Culberson presented a general objection to the system which resulted in the accumulation of such large amounts of government funds. "The root of the evil is high taxes and extravagance," he said. Illustrating, Mr. Culberson said the retirement rolls of the army and navy were being "padded;" that brigadier generals were found on the retired list thicker than the leaves of autumn; placed in that rank simply for the purpose of increasing their pay. The Federal government was year by year reaching out into the realm of the states and thus aiding expenditures. He said that in the last four years the increase in national expenditures had amounted to $115,000,000.

"Our revenues during that time had increased $119,000,000," interjected Mr. Aldrich, who added, "Not a very bad business proposition. What remedy does the senator propose?" asked Mr. Aldrich.

"Among other things we can reduce the tariff," answered Mr. Culberson.

"That would increase the importations and necessarily the revenues," suggested Mr. Aldrich.

"But we ought to go further than that and reduce our expenditures," continued Mr. Culberson, "cut off our colonial expenses, cut down the expenses of the army and navy and keep the government within the bounds of the constitution."

Senator Bacon made a suggestion, which Mr. Aldrich readily accepted and drafted into an amendment, which was adopted, providing that the secretary of the treasury shall distribute the deposits provided for, so far as possible, equitably among the several states.

A roll call was demanded on the amendment of Senator Nelson, which had been pending for several days. This amendment related to the character of securities which might be received besides providing for interest at the rate of 2 per cent to be paid by the banks on government deposits. The amendment was defeated 43 to 17.

At the suggestion of Mr. Culberson, Mr. Nelson then offered as a separate amendment the provision requiring interest to be paid on deposits and this, too, was defeated on roll call, 41 to 21.

A roll call on the final passage of the bill was secured, resulting in its passage by a vote of 43 to 14. Those who voted against the measures were Senators Bacon, Berry, Blackburn, Clay, Culberson, Dubois, Frazier, La Follette, McCreary, McLauren, Mallory, Pettus, Stone and Newlands. The currency bill authorizes the issuance of $10 gold certificates to the end that the $10 greenbacks may be broken up into $1, $2 and $5 bills, for which there is a great demand; also authorizes the deposits of customs receipts in national banks as internal receipts are now deposited. It raises from $3,000,000 to $9,000,000 the amount of national bank circulation that may be retired in any one month.

STUNG BY CRITICISM.

Stevens Will Also Receive Double His Previous Compensation.

Washington, Feb. 27.—It is understood that Chief Engineer Stevens, who has resigned from the Panama canal construction work, becomes connected with an enterprise in which his salary will be double that paid him by the government.

It has been known, also, that Mr. Stevens has been stung very much by criticisms aimed at him in connection with the canal work and he has been disposed to complain somewhat about them. Some of this criticism came out during the hearings before members of congress. The salary question is also understood to have had an important bearing on his retirement.

The chairman and engineer in chief of the commission will be Major G. W. Goethals and his assistants will be Major D. Du B. Galliard and Major W. L. Sibert, to rank in the order named. These officials are all comparatively young, ambitious and energetic members of the corps. The reorganization is to be effective immediately upon the confirmation and retirement of the old commission.

Senator Joseph C. B. Blackburn of Kentucky, who retires from the United States senate March 4, is to be made a member of the reorganized commission. The nominations of the present commissioners now pending before the senate include Messrs. Shonts Stevens, Haines, Endicott, Herrod, Georgas and Jackson Smith.

SHAW'S NEW JOB.

Will Become President of the Carnegie Trust Company.

New York, Feb. 27.—Leslie M. Shaw, secretary of the treasury, was elected president of the Carnegie Trust Company at this city, effective March 5.

Reason For Vetoing.

Washington, Feb. 27.—The president, in vetoing the bill to allow homestead settlers in the Kiowa pasture in Oklahoma to commute their entries with a view to establishing townsites, held that as the interior department had established townsites previous to the opening of the land to settlement, it would be unfair to the Indians to permit other townsites.

Spreading Slowly.

New Orleans, Feb. 27.—The crevasse below New Orleans has widened to nearly 150 feet so that it was necessary to build new cribbing at the lower end of the break to stop the levee from further crumbling. The inundation from the crevasse is spreading very slowly.

WIVES AND WIDOWS.

Senate Passes Resolution to Vote For Constitutional Amendment.

Austin, Feb. 27.—Senate passed finally the joint appropriation to amend the constitution to appropriate $150,000 for the home for indigent wives and widows of Confederate veterans.

Senator Looney offered a joint resolution to adjourn sine die, April 6. Laid on the table subject to call.

Senate confirmed the nomination of Hon. E. B. Muse of Dallas to be judge of the Forty-fourth district court and Hon. U. M. Nelms to be the former's successor as judge of the Dallas county criminal court.

In the house a motion to reconsider the vote by which the bill of Representative Robertson (of Travis) requiring insurance companies doing business in Texas to deposit 75 per cent of their actual reserve fund to pay policies to persons insured in Texas was engrossed failed—89 to 18.

Among bills introduced in the house was one by Boles providing that all railroad companies in the state operating excursion trains shall maintain a peace officer on each excursion train.

A bill by Terrell of Cherokee providing that persons who fail to pay poll tax shall work two days on the public roads.

Another important bill is one by Mobley that if any newspaper publisher shall publish any article or editorial for which he shall receive compensation, and shall fail to insert the word, "advertisement," he shall be fined $1,000 and given one year in jail.

Sheriff Matthews of Travis county has returned from St. Louis. He says he has not given up the chase for H. Clay Pierce.

DEPOT DESTROYED.

Elegant Structure of Southern Pacific at San Antonio Burned.

San Antonio, Feb. 27.—The Southern Pacific-Katy railway depot was totally destroyed by fire. Some of the records were saved. The fire was not discovered until the roof began to fall and several employees had narrow escapes. The building was used jointly by the Southern Pacific and Katy railways. Loss is covered by insurance. The depot was of the mission style of architecture and was admitted to be one of the most beautiful railway edifices in the south. It was completed four years ago this month. The fire originated from a defective wire in the roof.

STATEMENT FOR BAILEY.

Messrs. Odell, Hanger and Jones Have Given One to the Public.

Austin, Feb. 27.—Messrs. D. U. Odell, W. A. Hanger and T. N. Jones, attorneys for Senator Bailey, have given out a statement. They say it has never been the purpose of their client and themselves to conceal their plans. The Galveston-Dallas News is declared to be the mouthpiece for all abortive efforts to create excuse for delay of the investigation and declare a verdict of acquittal has been reached.

Effective in Ninety Days.

Austin, Feb. 27.—The attorney general holds that the anti-nepotism law will not take effect until ninety days after the adjournment of this legislature, and that it does not apply to persons who may be appointed prior to that time.

Willacy Quite Ill.

He says that eighty people have moved from Springfield to Texas this winter, and that the banks show that the amount stated has been drawn out and taken to Texas for investment.

ROLLER SKATE WEDDING.

Two Thousand Persons Witnessed at Pine Bluff Novel Nuptials.

Pine Bluff, Ark., Feb. 27.—Two thousand spectators witnessed a wedding which might be called strictly up-to-date in its features. The couple were married on roller skates, a fact which has called forth a vigorous protest from a Catholic priest who, in a printed card, protests against the desecration of the holy rite. Two other clergymen refused. Finally one was found.
